Reds 5 Miles Into Rumania

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, April 3 (AP)—The first Soviet military dispatch of the war from foreign territory reported today the Red army was marching into Rumania after storming across the Prut river, es-

BURMA—Glider-borne Allied Commandos (1) cut all north and south communication arteries to Myitkyina, key Jap base in Northern Burma. To the west, in the battle for Imphal, invading Japs cut the Imphal-Kohima road... and the Jap push on Kohima (2) is marked by heavy fighting.

Japs Cut Vital India Highway

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

NEW DELHI, April 3 (AP)—Japanese patrols, filtering through the jungles of eastern India onto the Manipur plain, have cut the roads around Imphal, Manipur capital, in an offensive obviously aimed at Dimapur on the Assam-Burma railway lifeline to Lieut.-Gen. Stilwell's forces.

The question whether air-borne supplies might be dropped to the Imphal garrison was answered here, by the statement that would not be necessary as the crisis would be overcome before such action was needed.

Dimapur is 44 miles across the Naga hills of the head hunters from Kohima 60 miles north of Imphal.

Fierce fighting in the wild hill country east of Kohima in India and repulse of a determined Japanese drive to reach the Tiddim road below Imphal to the south was announced by Allied headquarters.

Another Japanese column thrusting toward Imphal from the Chindwin river area to the East was stopped by Allied forces.

Enemy artillery continued to shell the Tamu-Palel road southeast of Imphal. Glider-borne Allied Commandos have cut all north and south communication arteries to Myitkyina, main Japanese base in northern Burma, and have smashed enemy efforts to crash their airstrip far behind Japanese lines, front dispatches reported.

The Commandos are now holding a considerable portion of the railroad from Myitkyina to Katha, more than 100 miles to the south. They are also harassing the river transport serving Myitkyina to the south.

American fighter planes destroyed 12 Japanese aircraft yesterday in operations over the front. Last night medium bombers shattered enemy installations at Ywating and Akyab on the Arakan coast.

Air Commando planes which attacked an ammunition dump near Imphal, west of the Irrawaddy river in central Burma, reported the objective practically wiped out, with "fires and numerous explosions all over the target area."

established by agreement with Rumania as the boundary in 1940.

Numerous large and small Rumanian villages have been captured, Red staffs have followed the advance guard across the river and established headquarters on Rumanian soil, the Soviet war correspondent, Boris Polevoy, said in a telegram to Pravda which was captioned "Across the Border."

The local population was reported giving the Red army a good reception and already returning from hiding places to their homes.

Foreign Commissar Molotov summoned foreign newspaper correspondents for his first press conference last night and announced the Red army had been given orders to "pursue the enemy until he is routed and capitulates." He revealed the Reds had crossed into Rumania at several points.

WANT NO RUMANIAN SOIL

At the same time he declared "the Soviet government states that it is not pursuing the enemy with the aim of seizing any part of Rumanian territory. Nor is the Soviet government's action aimed at the integrity of the existing social order in Rumania."

(Rumanian announcements indicated the Russians were five to 10 miles inside Rumania, having crossed the Jijia river which parallels the Prut north of Jassi (Jassy). The Rumanian communiqué declared the Russians had been thrown back across the Jijia "at almost every point."

(London quoted a Moscow communiqué as reporting other Russian forces had struck to within 19 miles of the great Black sea port of Odessa.

(Another Red army, meanwhile, swept nearer to the Carpathian mountain passes leading into Hungary, inflicting heavy losses on Axis troops, taking many prisoners and capturing enormous stores of booty.)

Molotov's announcement was made with a simplicity that made the momentous event all the more dramatic. He then underwent a barrage of questions.

WRITERS APPLAUD MOLOTOV

Correspondents broke into applause at the close of the conference when Molotov announced:

"I promise press conferences will be held frequently by the foreign commissariat."

Press conferences have been tried only once before in the Soviet Union.

Both W. Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador to Moscow, and Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British ambassador, had expressed a desire for renewal of press meetings

Plane Fire Rips Tirpitz

By E. D. BALL

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—British Naval planes have scored several hits on the Germans' most powerful battleship, the 35,000-ton Tirpitz, the admiralty announced today.

The Tirpitz was skulking in Norway's Alten fjord, the same spot where she was torpedoed by the royal navy's midget submarines last September.

RUSSIA—Double arrow indicates Red crossing of Prut river and capture of Gertsia. Single arrow marks Soviet threat to Odessa, 19 miles away.

The Admiralty's announcement of multiple hits indicated a heavy attack on the biggest surviving unit of Hitler's all but vanquished battlefleet. The attack presumably was carried out by carrier-based planes of the fleet air arm, possibly American-built.

Last previous reports on the Tirpitz said the Germans had been able to make only temporary repairs to the torpedo damage inflicted by the British midget submarines which stole into her hide-away last fall.

The Tirpitz was the one great capital ship remaining in the German navy after the sinking of the 26,000-ton Scharnhorst last December.

French Warships K. O. Nazi Convoy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 3 (AP)—French warships have scored another marked success in action against the Germans and wiped out an enemy convoy and its escort in the Adriatic, Allied headquarters announced today.

Yanks K.O. 100 Planes at Steyr

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 3 (AP)—More than 100 enemy planes—largest number ever bagged on a single raid from this theater—were shot down yesterday by a big formation of U. S.

heavy bombers and their escorts which roared over the Alps and smashed the German aircraft parts factory and ballbearing works at Steyr, in old Austria, it was announced today.

An estimated 300 enemy planes were encountered on the raid, some of them using rockets and aerial bombs. Anti-aircraft fire over the town was the most intense encountered by bombers from this theater, many crewmen said, and this plus the fighter attacks indicated the importance the Germans attached to establishments there.

Thirty-three Allied planes were lost in yesterday's operations.

Despite the Steyr opposition, however, the great air armada, which included 500 Fortresses and Liberators and scores of escorting fighters, got over the target and let the vital war plants have the record load of bombs.

Photographs showed three of five main factory buildings shattered and many direct hits as fire gushed from the wreckage.

5th Army Halts Flame-Throwers

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 3 (AP)—Allied troops have smashed an attack by German flame-throwers on the left flank of the beachhead below Rome, headquarters announced today, while Italian troops fighting with the Allies occupied a third peak in the center of the main Fifth Army front.

Flame-throwers spearheaded the attack of about 150 German infantrymen against the beachhead, which began an hour before dusk Friday after a heavy mortar barrage. It was launched in the same vicinity as the raid of the previous day in which the Germans forced a slight withdrawal by the Allies from a position a mile and a half southwest of Carroccio, 21 miles below Rome.

Hitler Shifts Army West to Nip Invasion

By PIERRE J. HUSS

SUPREME ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, England, April 3 (NS)—Under pressure from the high Command, which fears Allied invasion more than Russian advances, Hitler today began a major shift of troops to western Europe.

At the same time he ordered Propaganda Minister Goebbels to eliminate any suggestion Allied invasion plans are a gigantic bluff. From now on, Goebbels will trumpet that invasion not only is imminent but will be on a gigantic, ruthless scale.

Reliable information shows German units are pouring into the lowlands and France, with 50 divisions already on hand, including highly trained and seasoned "Elite Guards."

The "anti-invasion army" has been divided into two separate units — the Atlantic command, concentrated in areas around Bordeaux, and the Northern command, on a 800-mile front from Normandy to the lowlands.

Reserves are staggered in deep zones behind them, while German air force squadrons now are believed to total 1500 operational bombers plus fighters.

Twenty-five divisions are in Italy, 25 in the Balkans and Aegean area, five in Denmark and 10 in Norway.

Germany itself is grimly awaiting the assault.

The average German is bucking himself up with much wish-thinking, chiefly that the Allied invasion armies will suffer such a disastrous defeat that a compromise peace is bound to follow after which Germany can deal with Russia.

The German press is flooded with stories and pictures from the Anzio beachhead. It is emphasized that "positional warfare" has been imposed on the Allies. The idea implanted in German minds is that even if the Allies should carve out a beachhead in western Europe, it will eventually deteriorate from a progressive invasion into a 1944 "western front" of the Anzio type and therewith turn the war back into a European stalemate "bound to tire out" the German enemies.

German news writers claim reconnaissance planes are securing the pattern of what Allied invasion forces are doing in Britain.

Goebbels is telling the people that life will soon be better, even for those who have lost all in the bombings. There is much vague propaganda about the benefits of simple living in open-air camps, obviously designed to soothe the bombed-out thousands now crowded into huts and tents.

Magazines show lightly-clad girls—sometimes complete nudes—dancing on lawns.

Goebbels has spearheaded this escapism campaign by organizing a "strength through spirit" drive. He has revived the old German song: "Es Geht Alles Verusch." (Everything has an end.)

2 Held in Attack On Club Dancer

Charged with attacking an Everett night-club dancer they were supposed to protect from an unidentified assailant, two East Boston youths court today and were held in $3500 each for hearing Thursday.

The alleged victim, Geraldine M. Wallace, 23, whose stage name is Connie Gray and lives in a Boston hotel, was held in $1000 as a material witness at the request of Police Chief John T. Stuart of Saugus.

The unusual request that Miss Wallace be held was explained by Chief Stuart who told Judge Ralph W. Reeve she was booked for a southern tour and might be in Florida before the case was heard Thursday.

Miss Wallace charged Gaetano J. Interbartoli, 21, of Marion st. and Antonio Giorgio, 21, of Brooks st., abducted and attacked her after they were asked to be her bodyguards by the son of the owner of the Valley Club, Everett, where she was appearing.

She said the pair drove her to a Boston Cinnamon restaurant and then reversed, their course and took her back to the Happy Valley cabins in Saugus instead of to her hotel.

Before they arrived at the cabins, she told police, Giorgio climbed into the back of the car and hid on the floor. At the cabin office, Interbartoli registered as man and wife and ordered her into the cabin, she charged.

After attacking her twice he left and Giorgio entered and attacked her once, Miss Wallace told police. She said the pair removed her clothing and she was so frightened she did not dare protest.

The men then took her to her Boston hotel where she ran into the lobby and told her story to the house detective who notified police.

It was a Friday night attack by an unidentified assailant which led Miss Wallace to seek protection and Harry Vaccaro, son of the Valley Club owner, introduced her to Interbartoli and Giorgio who agreed to see her to her hotel safely, she told police.

Chaplin Trial In Final Phase

By JAMES LINDSLEY

LOS ANGELES, April 3 (AP)—The Charlie Chaplin courtroom drama moved swiftly toward its final act today.

Suave, eloquent Jerry Giesler of the defense and the red-haired, vigorous prosecutor, Charles H. Carr, were scheduled to relate to a jury their divergent views on the innocence or guilt of the little actor, accused of Mann Act violation.

The jury of seven women and five men was ordered back to the courtroom to hear the closing arguments which are limited to two and a half hours for each side. Tomorrow morning Federal Judge J. F. T. O'Connor will read his instructions and the jury will try to reach a verdict. The trial has been in progress for two weeks.

Reduced to essentials, the arguments will be these:

The government claims that Chaplin, caused his pretty former protegee, Joan Berry, to be transported to New York and back again in October, 1942, for immoral purposes.

The defense, admitting Chaplin arranged for her tickets to New York, claims that there was no immoral intent and that no immoral act took place there; that Chaplin had nothing to do with bringing Miss Berry back to Hollywood from New York, as charged in the second count of the indictment.

Miss Berry's testimony and that of Chaplin were different in all essential details, and it's up to the jury to decide who was telling the truth.

Herald, Curley Settle Suit

Cong. James M. Curley today dropped his $500,000 damage suit against the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp. in an agreement signed by counsel for both sides.

In a courthouse anteroom, Curley said:

"It was a very satisfactory settlement. Ten years is a very long siege in a court case."

His counsel said an amount of money had been passed but he declined to name the figure.

The case was scheduled for hearing today before Judge Edward T. Broadhurst in Suffolk Superior Court but the agreement to call it off was signed before the judge came on the bench.

Atty. Wendell C. Murray signed for Curley, Atty. John L. Hall for the Herald-Traveler.

When Curley brought suit he charged misstatements had been made by the newspaper in 1934 concerning settlement of two suits against the city while Curley was mayor.

Pole Bishops Refuse To Attack Russians

LONDON, April 3 (INS)—A Carmelite demand that a pastoral letter be issued attacking the Russians was refused flatly by the Catholic bishops of three large Polish regions, according to a report today by the Polish Telegraph Agency.

The prelates were identified as the bishops of Kielcki, Zestochowski and Sandomeński. Numerous priests were reported to have been arrested in the German campaign to force the Polish clergy into anti-Russian propaganda.

Asks F. D. Aid Soldier To See Dying Baby

NEW YORK, April 3—A young mother's appeal that her soldier husband be granted a furlough from service in the South Pacific before his baby daughter dies lay on President Roosevelt's desk today.

The baby is 19-months-old Teresa Truax, suffering from the usually fatal leukemia at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Her mother, Mrs. Alice Truax of Rahway, N. J., has written a letter to the President, begging that the child's daddy, Staff Sergeant Elmer Truax, be granted permission to hurry home for one last glimpse of his little girl.

The sergeant hasn't seen Teresa since July, but is aware of her serious condition, Mrs. Truax said. The baby is kept alive by blood transfusions, but appears weaker each day.

Letters from her husband show that he is greatly affected by wor-

Goodwin Quits As Auto Chief

Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles in Massachusetts for a total of 16 years, submitted his resignation to Gov. Saltonstall today to take effect Aug. 1.

Carrying out his intention announced last Feb. 10 to retire during 1944, Goodwin wrote the governor that "with mingled pleasure and regret, I am hereby sending to you notice that I desire to retire from the office of registrar of motor vehicles on Aug. 1 of this year."

Goodwin has held the position since February, 1933. Prior to that, he was registrar for eight years, during the 1920's.

Goodwin will become 70 on Oct. 20, the usual age for retirement of state employees. Under the wartime emergency, however, the Governor is authorized to re-employ state officials for the duration.

Whether Gov. Saltonstall would bring pressure to keep the registrar in office remained to be seen.

William F. Campbell, chief accountant in the registry and a vice-commander of the Massachusetts Department, American Legion, has been mentioned as Goodwin's most likely successor.

Destroyer Sims Hero to Be Honored

The commanding officer of the U. S. S. Sims, who went down with that destroyer when it was sunk in the battle of Coral sea, will be honored when the U. S. S. Hyman, one of the Navy's new type heavy destroyers, is launched at the Bath Iron Works Saturday, it was announced today by headquarters of the First Naval District.

The U. S. S. Hyman will be named for the late Lieut.-Comdr. William Milton Hyman, U. S. N., and will be sponsored by his widow, Mrs. Edwige Brechon Hyman of Fulton, N. Y., formerly of San Pedro, Cal.

enough from Gen. Douglas MacArthur—will be chief marshal of the Bataan Day parade next Sunday.

Back from the South Seas on a well-earned visit to his wife and 10 children after two years of jungle warfare, Col. Carew has been notified that at the request of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin of Boston his leave has been extended to permit him to take part.

Proceeding what are expected to be among the most impressive exercises ever held on Boston Common, setting for so many historical events, the parade will include details from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard together with WAVES, WACS, SPARS and Women Marines.

A National Guard "career" soldier who worked his way up from the ranks and achieved a distinguished record in France in the last war, Col. Carew was in command of the 101st Engineers when they were called into service in the current struggle.

While serving as an engineer officer with the 32d Division in Buna, he won the Distinguished Service Cross by organizing a rescue party and saving many men when ships were being bombed off New Guinea. Col. Carew was asked to leave for a new post in Louisiana when the order arrived from Washington extending his leave five days.

The parade will move to the Common, where it will be reviewed by Mayor Tobin and distinguished guests, on MacArthur Mall, and at 3 p. m. the program will start with a concert.

Special guests of the city will be the families of more than 300 Massachusetts men who sacrificed their lives or their freedom on Bataan.

Mayor Tobin, chairman of the observance, has set aside a special section for relatives of men whose fate in many instances is still unknown.

Among other invited guests are President Manuel Quezon of the Philippines, whose faith that his people will be released from bondage has never wavered, high-ranking officers and leaders of veterans' organizations.

Urging general support of the observance of Bataan Day, Mayor Tobin has pointed out that many are still prisoners, and that in consequence everyone must do whatever possible to bring about their freedom at the earliest date.

Postwar Gas From Farm Waste

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CLEVELAND, April 3—A postwar plan for making the world's gasoline, and later its coal, from crop wastes, forests and seaweeds was presented to the American Chemical Society here today.

The plan is based on a newly completed laboratory process developed during the past 18 years by Dr. E. Berle of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Commercial perfection of the process would take time, but Dr. Berle indicated the method is simpler and cheaper than present synthetic gasoline processes.

He predicted in the world of tomorrow there need be no native nations for coal and oil. He said he has information England already is planning a carbohydrate empire, probably in Africa, to develop postwar gasoline.

Dr. Berle puts plant wastes in a cooker which causes them to burn internally, consuming their own internal oxygen. When the oxygen is gone they become hydrocarbons.

The product of the cooker is a jelly-like mass which he termed a Diesel fuel without further refinement. Adding hydrogen produces oils, gasoline or coal and cokes.

This synthetic coal looks somewhat different than bituminous, but is superior to the sulphur-bearing natural coals, and burns more readily.

Dr. Berle said one year's farm crop wastes of the United States could by this process make enough gasoline to run our 32,000,000 cars for a year.

Sugar cane is especially good because even after all the sugar

Pave Way for Service Vote

In preparation for tomorrow's special session of the legislature, called to amend state election laws to facilitate voting by servicemen, three legislative committees met today in executive session.

The committee on election laws will consider the voting amendments; the committee on ways and means will discuss proposed transfers of funds necessitated by the contemplated advancement of the state primary date, and the committee on military affairs and public safety will meet to set an effective date for building inspections under the state's new building code.

Although Gov. Saltonstall has requested that business of the special session be limited to consideration of the vote of servicemen and to the building code, it was believed the Democratic minority might attempt to open the session to consideration of proposed benefits to war veterans.

In that connection seven Democratic members of the postwar rehabilitation commission filed a report calling attention to the needs of approximately 200 servicemen being discharged each day and returning to Massachusetts homes.

The report recommended establishment of "veterans' centers" in every city and town of more than 5000 population and district centers for smaller towns to coordinate activities of federal, state and local agencies. Each bureau would establish an unpaid advisory board consisting of medical, industrial, labor, veteran and educational representatives.

The group also recommended that a hospital building program be launched "forthwith." Specifically mentioned were a 200-bed wing addition to Soldiers' Home in Chelsea and construction of a 500-bed institution "near the central part of the Commonwealth."

A payment of $300 to every Bay State man or woman honorably discharged from service, was also advocated.

Finns Hear Red Terms

STOCKHOLM, April 3 (AP)—

Problem: How to Wheel Quads, Maintain Sanity

NEW YORK, April 3—A new mass production problem faced the baby carriage industry today as expert designers, known in the trade as perambulator pundits, scheduled a conference to draw up specifications for a carriage for the Zarief quadruplets.

The experts, Joseph Langman of the Whitney Coach Co., and H. Norman Neubert of R. H. Macy's, told the quads' father, Harry Zarief, that construction of a carriage for his four famed babies posed four intricate problems:

(1) The carriage must be light enough to be wheeled by one person, yet sturdy enough to support the four infants. (2) It must be made in compartments to localize hour-to-hour infant emergencies. (3) It must be low-slung to maintain balance and to enable the pusher to see ahead. (4) It must not be so big that it couldn't be garaged.

THESE ARE THE PLANS

After impressing on Papa Zarief the necessity for "de luxe front wheeling," "low center of gravity," "knee action with duchess gear," Neubert and Langman said they had the following carriage plans under consideration:

Fifth Ave. Bus: A double decker carriage in which the quads would sit in pairs, two upstairs and two down, with a swivel drop arrangement for the top deck so all four could be on one level for sunning purposes.

Hansom Cab: The quads here would sit in pairs, the second pair elevated to look out over the heads of those in front.

Twin-Twin: Two twins carriages linked together.

Streamliner: A design to place the quads in line, one behind the other. It would be underslung like a dachshund, but being 12 feet long would be hard to garage.

The Ferris Wheel: A gondola-type carriage in which the quads would face each other. Its disadvantage is that the hoods would be too high for a nurse to peer over and so would require the wheeler to operate with a pogo stick.

CIRCULAR MODEL

Super Duper: An entirely circular model, allowing each quad the 50 inches of space required in the best-designed carriages. In the center, a special compartment for dummies, powder, pins, rubber panties, etc.

While the experts weighed their problems, the quads and their mother spent a quiet day unaware of the conferences. But Papa Zarief was in a dither. He said if today's gathering of experts did not produce a perambulator, he planned to confer with Rube Goldberg, the nation's leading exponent of "Quad" eratic demonstration.

'Snow White' Test Offers Big Prize

Somewhere in the New England States there is a lucky girl with a lovely singing voice who is going to win a thousand-dollar cash prize and be known in all the states as the "New England Snow White."

ADRIANA CASELOTTI
"Snow White" Coming Here

She may be a little girl who possibly has just finished reading Grimm's classic fairy tale, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," for the first time, or she may be a young lady, studying voice, with a dream of becoming a world-famous singer, or she may be a diligent housewife who possesses an outstanding voice.

LOVELLIEST VOICE

Whoever she is, she will have an opportunity of entering the New England "Princess Snow White" contest sponsored by RKO Radio Pictures, Walt Disney Productions, Inc., and the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser to find the loveliest voice in New England.

The contest is conducted in connection with RKO-Radio Pictures 50-city New England premiere of Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The picture will open in Boston at the Normandie and Majestic theaters on April 13 for an unlimited engagement and around the same time throughout the rest of New England.

Nab 3 Youths Plotting Break

An attempt by three youths to break into a gasoline station at Broadway and Elm st., Cambridge, early today ended in the arrest of one at gunpoint at the scene, while two others were apprehended by Boston police a half hour later on West Boston bridge.

The three fled when discovered by Cambridge Patrolman Ben Silver, two in one direction, the other to the rear of the station. After one shot, Silver captured a 17-year-old Rosindale youth.

Boston police were notified and prowler cars were sent to all Cambridge bridges. The two youths, one armed with a .32 caliber revolver, were captured by Sgt. John O'Keefe and Patrolman Walter Ferguson.

Within an hour after the accident, police arrested a 62-year-old Jamaica Plain man for questioning.

Mother Seeks Missing Son

Fearful for the safety of her only son, 14-year-old Fred Covington, who disappeared while en route home from a week's vacation in Lowell, Mrs. Walter Snow of Partridge rd., South Weymouth, today appealed to police and Boston American readers to aid in locating the boy.

The missing youth, a Weymouth High School freshman, was described as weighing about 125 pounds, five feet four inches tall, with light hair, blue eyes and a scar on his right cheek.

When last seen, as he prepared to take a Boston train from Lowell Sunday afternoon, he was wearing a plaid macinaw, gray corduroy trousers and brown shoes. He was hatless.

Mrs. Snow said her son had been overheard talking with another Lowell boy about a "trip south."

Archer Starts Fight on Deal

Newly elected as chairman of the American Democratic National Committee, a body of anti-New Deal Democrats, Dr. Gleason L. Archer, president of Suffolk University, today prepared to start "intensive organization work" in a campaign against extending President Roosevelt's term to 16 years.

An Associated Press dispatch from Chicago said the Boston educator was chosen head of the anti-fourth term group to succeed Harry H. Woodring, former secretary of war in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Woodring resigned his post of chairman and withdrew from the committee, complaining that too many anti-Administration Democratic leaders "appear too timid, politically and economically, to stand up and be counted."

"Blondie," America's great human interest comic strip, appears every day in the Boston American.

New Style Baseball K. O.'s Pacific Japs

By STANLEY CHIPMAN

The Japs turned out some pretty fair baseball players in peacetime but they are having a hard time learning a new version, "Bougainville baseball," Staff Sgt. John J. Norton of Alcott st., Allston, writes to friends from his foxhole.

Norton, 28, a former Boston College High School baseball star, is on Bougainville with his brother, Nicholas T., 23, a master sergeant, who played on a High School of Commerce nine. Wrote Staff Sgt. Norton: "Last year, while we were in the Fijis, we had our own company team and Nick and I John J. Norton were in there knocking them out with the best of them. This year, although our team is still together, I doubt if we'll be spending any time on the diamond. We've got another kind of game to play."

"For baseballs we're using grenades—and anything else that can be thrown. Bats are rifle butts and bayonets. Hits—the boys are making them all the time and they're going into 10 and 20-baggers. Errors—can't afford to have them if we expect to have another chance at bat.

"The baselines are jungle rugs and the bases turn out to be the nearest foxholes to fight from or behind.

"How are the Braves and Red Sox shaping up? Are they going to short-wave the games again this year? Here's hoping.

"Despite the many, many miles we are from home, our thoughts are as fresh as the smell of new-mown hay . . . The little things we used to forget about assume tremendous proportions and give us food for conversation over here."

A third Norton brother, James, 26, a High School of Commerce graduate and athlete, is a warrant officer, junior grade, stationed in West Virginia.

Their sister, Margaret, 32, is a civilian employee in the chemical warfare service, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They are the children of William C. Norton, Allston.

5 N. E. Navy Men Cited as Heroes

In recognition of his heroism while performing volunteer rescue work after the destroyer Strong was sunk last July in Kula Gulf, Lieut. Donald Arthur Regan, 28, son of Mrs. Louise E. Regan of St. Andrew rd., East Boston, now wears the Navy and Marine Corps Medal.

The young East Boston officer was one of five New Englanders to win official praise for bravery during battle.

The Silver Star was awarded Comdr. John D. Sweeney, 41, of Hammond rd., Belmont.

Capt. Edward E. Maynard, USN, 57, a native of Lowell, has been awarded the Legion of Merit with Gold Star.

Two members of a Navy armed guard unit aboard the S. S. James G. Blaine were commended for repulsing furious enemy aerial attacks. The men are B. M. 2/c Charles Warren Byrnes, 24, of Walley st., Bristol, R. I., and Seaman 1/c John Andrada, Jr., 19, of Second st., Providence, R. I.

Army Seeking 1000 Contract Auditors

To expedite settlement of terminated war contracts, the Army needs 1000 accountants and auditors, the First Service Command announces.

The personnel will serve in civilian capacity under civil service at pay ranging from $3828 to $6228 a year. While the work will help further the war efforts, applicants will not be given draft deferments.

Are you looking for a suit that will keep its happy disposition, no matter how you treat it? Bond has it! Park Lane is the name. America's No. 1 suit at $32.00. Such success must have what it takes. So what makes Park Lanes click? Because they're tailored in Rochester—that's what! Because they bring you lots more expensive hand needlework than you'll usually see at $32.00—or anywhere near it. Because Park Lanes' smooth-feeling, tough-wearing pure worsteds will take back talk from nobody. They're the proudest product of this country's foremost weavers. And because those crisp lines, and clean fit, will stay that way—as long as your Park Lane is in service. Sounds pretty good for $32.00, doesn't it? GOP Watching Wisconsin Test

By the Associated Press

The political spotlight swung today to Wisconsin but both parties eyed developments in a half dozen other states for indications of a trend in the forthcoming national elections.

From Maine to California, Republicans were watching for tomorrow's Wisconsin primary.

Many GOP members believe the result may be inconclusive, with some of the 24 delegates going to Wendell L. Willkie, and others to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Lieut.-Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, or Gen. MacArthur, Willkie, the only one of the four actively seeking the nomination, describes the election as "vital."

Reds Not Stopping at Border

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst

The big news of the day is that Red troops are actually on Rumanian soil, not only because of its military importance, but because it provides strong evidence to refute the German-inspired report that when the Russians had evicted the enemy from their territory they would halt on the borders and let the rest of the Allies fight it out with the Axis.

Of course, one swallow doesn't make a summer, and invasion of Rumania doesn't necessarily mean invasion of Germany. Still, Moscow has said it certainly was headed for Berlin and there's no reason to doubt it.

The Soviet government has made a shrewd move in announcing it has no intention of any from under Hitler's domination as soon as he is forced to relax his military grip on their throats.

necessity. This is calculated to do up the Rumanians to lay down their arms, and it can't help but have a salutary effect on a population which for weeks has been panicky over approach of Red troops.

The same thing can be said of Bulgaria. Both these countries long have been held in the web only through fear inspired by the presence of German troops on their soil. They are likely to sh

Q—What is the nature of an honorable discharge under "C. D. D. per Sec. 11 A. R. 615-360 W. D. Cir. 481?" Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? M. B., Cambridge.

A—Yes. The amount depends on your length of service. A recent ruling of the War Dept. authorizes your discharge because of medical reasons.

Q—After serving in the Army seven months I was given an honorable discharge at my own request. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? J. M. Newton.

A—It is doubtful that you are entitled to mustering-out benefits. You fail to state in your letter under what Army regulation you received discharge. Apparently your discharge reads under W. D. Circular No. 39. If so, you are not eligible for discharge pay. Let me know full particulars and we will give you a definite answer.

Q—I have been honorably discharged from the Army after serving four months. Recently I received $100. If more is coming do I apply for additional compensation. Chas. Son, Boston.

A—You are entitled to $200. Your original application takes care of entire amount. Allow 30 days from date of initial payment for arrival of second check.

Q—I entered the armed forces Nov. 24, 1942 and was given an honorable discharge, C. D. D. (Certified Disability Discharge) eight weeks later. Am I entitled to mustering-out pay? R. S., Waltham.

A—Yes, make application Finance Officer, 80 Federal st., Boston. You will receive $100.

Prepare V Gardens For Maximum Yield

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head, Market Garden Dept., Norfolk County Agricultural School, and director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser demonstration garden on Boston Common.)

Victory Gardeners should plan now to obtain the greatest possible yield from the growing space they have available this spring and summer, since food shortages are very likely to develop by next winter despite the fact that some foods have been removed from the ration list.

In watching the trend of commercial production it would seem that the prospects for as large a crop as last year are not too bright. The labor situation as regards farm help is getting more acute and it begins to look as if the farmer will drop behind last year's high production.

Already the question has come in as to how soon it will be advisable to start digging the garden. Where time is limited, many victory gardeners will want to get started as soon as possible, but do not make the mistake of working the land too early. With few exceptions I would say that it is still a little too early to think of working the land. It is still cold and wet. If you are lucky enough to have a well drained slope with a southern exposure it may be possible to start working the land in about a week. Try your soil for moisture content by using the following method.

Dig up a spade full of soil.

Take a handful and make a ball out of it. Then try to break it up. If the soil crumbles up easily and does not cake it is ready to work. This simple test will save you a lot of trouble in working the soil later in the season.

Wet soil should not be disturbed under any conditions, as it will cake and be lumpy for the rest of the season. Spend a little more time on your plans and be sure that the land is ready to work before you start digging.

Lift Quarantine On U. S. Girl Workers

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP).—Some 300 girls returned to their government jobs today with the lifting of a meningitis quarantine of Louisiana Hall, one unit of the federally-owned Arlington Farms dormitory area. No new cases developed among the girls after the quarantine was imposed three days ago subsequent to the death of one of their roommates. Another girl who developed meningitis prior to the quarantine still is in a hospital.

Quisling Takes Over

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP).—Maj. Vikham Qvisling was declared in a Stockholm NYA Dagligt Allehanda article reported to the OWI (to have assumed command of his own storm troops, known as the "Unit in Trans-Scandinavia-Norway."

Marine Corps Dog Quota Filled

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP).—The Marine Corps announced today it won't need any more dogs—the four-legged kind, not the "Devil Dog" variety—until May 15.

The corps said in recent weeks dogs of all breeds have been offered but that it is only seeking Doberman pinschers and German shepherds.

Hebrews Hail 439 On Honor Roll

An honor roll bearing the names of 439 members of the Young Men's Hebrew Ass'n, in the armed forces, stood unveiled today after impressive exercises at which Gov. Saltonstall was principal speaker. Many relatives of the 434 men and five women in service were among the 1000 persons who heard pleas for unity and support by the governor, Police Commr. Thomas F. Sullivan, Comdr. Joseph H. Cnamon of the Massachusetts Jewish War Veterans, Pres. Nathan A. Heller of the YMHA, and Judge A. K. Cohen, president of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies of Boston.

Asserting there is "too much over-confidence and too much easy thinking on the home front," Gov. Saltonstall warned against "danger of becoming calloused to war horrors and to false prosperity brought on by the conflict."

Judge Cohen cited the honor roll as a conclusive answer to the "false and malicious charges of breeders of disunity." Police Commr. Sullivan, pointing out that Americans of every race, creed and color are fighting side by side, pleaded that the same unity of spirit was necessary on the home front.

The honor roll was dedicated with a prayer by Rabbi Herman H. Rubenowitz, president of the Rabbinical Ass'n of Greater Boston.

Clean Offices
In Paper Drive

Boston's contribution of paper to the war effort will be boosted toward the end of this month when an unprecedented spring house-cleaning of downtown offices will be staged, in order to obtain every old filed record, book, catalog or other form of paper to help increase the salvage pile.

The special drive, during which every office will be asked to clean out desks and files, is to be held under the auspices of the Advertising Club of Boston through a committee headed by George C. Wiswell.

Wiswell announced that a complete new collection system is being worked out and that the unique salvage campaign will mark the greatest cleanout of office paper ever undertaken in the country.

Churches Plan
Holy Week Rites

Holy Week services in Catholic and Protestant churches of Greater Boston were scheduled today after thousands of worshippers inaugurated the final week of Lent by attending Palm Sunday masses at which frosts of blessed palms were distributed.

At most Catholic churches it was announced that Tenebrae services will be held Wednesday, followed by confessions in preparation for Holy Thursday.

Cardinal O'Connell will preside at a solemn high mass at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross at 11 a. m., Easter Sunday. The Rev. Walter L. Flaherty will be the celebrant and the Rev. James H. Doyle will preach the sermon.

Asthma Mucus Loosened First Day

For Thousands of Sufferers

Coughing, gasping, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma ruin your sleep and rob your blood of vitally important oxygen because you can't get air in and out of your lungs properly. But now it is no longer necessary to suffer from these terrible attacks without the benefit you may receive from a physician's prescription called Mendaco. Within a very short time after the first dose, Mendaco ingredients start circulating thru the blood, thus reaching the smallest as well as the largest Bronchial tubes where they usually quickly help liquidity, loosen and remove thick strangling mucus (phlegm), thereby promoting freer breathing and more restful sleep. Get Mendaco from your druggist today. Take it exactly as directed and see the results in your own particular case. Under our guarantee unless completely satisfied you simply return the empty package and get your money back. Three guaranteed sizes: Only 60¢, $1.75, and $2.50 at your druggist.

"Same old Quality"

and still $24⁵⁰ $29⁵⁰

A lot of water has gone over the dam these last few years. There is hardly a thing that hasn't changed—except the quality of materials, workmanship and good taste in Richman Brothers Clothes. These, today, are still as good as ever before.

Quality alone, however, wouldn't be worth talking about if our prices had gone up like the rest. But our policy for 65 years has been to make the finest clothes we know how for the lowest possible prices—and so our famous Standard Quality line is still $24.50, and our Super Quality line is still $29.50.

Their Loved Ones Are Held by Japs

Has Hopes—Mrs. Richard Smith, holding her daughter, Patricia, hopes her Cambridge brother, Gabriel D. Paiva, Jr. (at right) is well. He was captured by Japs at Manila.

By PAULINE WARREN

IN MASSACHUSETTS alone there are over 300 families suffering a special sort of anguish—for from each of these families a loved one is missing and that loved one is eating his heart out behind the barbed wire and bayonets of a Japanese prison camp.

Most of these 300 men were taken shortly after Pearl Harbor and in the fall of the Philippines.

The only news of their grim agonizing existence is an occasional, meager, gray official card—perhaps one a year—containing a bleak sentence or two, unrevealing and stereotyped, obviously written under the cold eyes of ruthless captors.

RELATIVES GRIEVE

As months and years drift by with no help reaching these men and no indication given as to when and in what condition they may be returned home, their relatives grieve—silent, helpless.

But while the years take toll—on prisoners and relatives, too—the latter are finding a bitter sort of courage in their suffering. Determined to face the impossible, they are forming a club in the hopes that, banded together in a group, they may be able to get our government to use more pressure on the Japanese to release these men.

Every next-of-kin of an American held as prisoner by the Japs is eligible to become a member.

The first meeting of this—the most exclusive and merciful of clubs—will take place Easter Sunday, in the afternoon, in the Hall of Flags, at the State House, at 2:00 o'clock, just prior to the Bataan Day exercises to be held on Gen. Douglas MacArthur Mall in Boston Common.

ALL RELATIVES INVITED

Any family not having yet received its invitation is asked to write to the War Prisoners Next-of-Kin Club, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Massachusetts.

All relatives are also asked to attend the Bataan Day exercises as honor guests of Mayor Maurice J. Tobin immediately following the meeting at three o'clock.

Their slogan "They Also Serve

Those Who . . . Wait," these hundreds of relatives of men enduring the horrors of Japanese prison camps, will march down together from the State House to Douglas MacArthur Mall after formulating plans designed to help bring their men home.

Wait News—A sick father, Louis Hickson, Sr., of Charlestown, discusses his in-the-service relatives with his wife. Their son, Louis, Jr. (insert) is a prisoner of war . . . held by the Japs.

Get News—Mrs. Modestino Andreottola of the North End listens as her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Cassino, translates news in Prisoners of War Bulletin. Mrs. Andreottola's son, Samuel (at right) was captured on Bataan.

Russia Keeps Japan In the War

THE JAPANESE and Russian governments have concluded new trade agreements which reflect the strange and contradictory situation prevailing between the various nations involved in the present war.

The major purpose accomplished by the Japanese in these agreements is to assure them of an adequate and continuous food supply.

This is achieved through the granting of fishing rights to Japan for FIVE MORE YEARS in the Siberian coastal waters which Russia controls.

Nothing else is so vital to Japan as this.

The principal food of the Japanese is fish. Their principal source of fish is the Siberian coastal area.

Russia is not only making it possible for the Japanese to EAT, and thus stay in the war against the United States, Great Britain and China, but is permitting continued Japanese exportation of vital supplies of oil and coal from the Russian-owned northern half of Sakhalin Island.

True enough, the Japanese have been compelled to abandon their oil and coal concessions in Russian Sakhalin.

But they are permitted to remove stored stocks, which are known to be extensive.

Russia has undoubtedly driven a good bargain for herself with Japan in these agreements.

But the extent of the Russian diplomatic bargain suggests another thing to the American people.

If Russia is able to achieve a diplomatic bargain in her relations with Japan which is so much to our disadvantage, let us hope that she will be willing to exert herself diplomatically in a way that would benefit us—especially when to do so would not in any way be disadvantageous to Japan.

Since Russia is obviously in a position to make any bargains with Japan, why does she not bargain for an exchange of war prisoners between Japan and the United States—and thus prevent the torture, starvation and death of thousands of Americans still in the hands of the Japanese?

At least why does not Russia prevail upon the Japanese to distribute the American relief supplies, which are even now assembled at Vladivostok, to our sick and starving prisoners?

Surely Russia is ABLE to perform this service to the American people, who are continuously performing many vital services for Russia.

Massachusetts' Biggest Issue

THOUSANDS of service men of eighteen, nineteen and twenty years of age from Massachusetts have earned the right to vote.

They are shedding their blood as copiously and as many of them are dying as are men of twenty-one and older.

They are the equals of men of twenty-one and older in all the branches of the armed forces, and sometimes their superiors.

BUT WILL THESE SERVICE MEN OF EIGHTEEN, NINETEEN AND TWENTY YEARS OF AGE BE ALLOWED TO VOTE IN OUR MASSACHUSETTS ELECTIONS?

That is the biggest question of the hour!

Will the members of the incoming Legislature let them vote?

Will Governor Saltonstall let them vote?

Will the brave young lads who have known no discrimination in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps be forced to endure a humiliating discrimination on the home front, which they are risking their lives all over the globe to preserve?

Governor Saltonstall has called the Legislature into special session to enable the older service men to vote.

But that is ONLY PART of his duty.

As the first citizen of the Commonwealth, he owes an equally great debt of gratitude to the younger service men.

It is therefore his patriotic obligation to join with the Legislature in enacting new legislation or amending the Constitution to permit these soldiers, sailors and marines of eighteen, nineteen and twenty to vote at the earliest possible date.

This is a paramount issue which no man on Beacon Hill can evade by sanctimonious talk or by cunning political manipulations, such as behind-the-scenes instructions to legislative committees or leaders.

Either the Governor and the Legislature want the younger fighting men to vote or the Governor and the Legislature do not want them to vote.

If they really appreciate the great work these provenly responsible men of eighteen, nineteen and twenty are doing and really value the sacrifices they are making, both the Governor and the Legislature will begin their enfranchisement immediately.

DESPITE many protests, our Horsey & Women Department continues to claim that the most "conversational" of feminine eyes are brown eyes. . . . Now there is a top-flight film star who has abandoned her career, donned a uniform and is active in the Army hospitals at the fighting front in Italy. That is Madeleine Carroll. Hooray for her! When she returns to the films I will go to see her pictures three times at least. . . . In World War I, in the United States there were 337,649 draft deserters. Of these 167,738 were caught and punished. . . . The official language of flowers includes lettuce. It means "you are cold-hearted." So, young fellow, if some girl gives you the brush-off, send her a head of lettuce.

OUT ON LIMB: Henry Ford has said the war will be over in two months. Making a statement like that is really going out on the limb in a large way. Mr. Ford did not state on what he based this astonishing prophecy, but he probably believes when the Nazis note the Russians getting close to Berlin they will throw down their arms, try out "kammerad," and surrender to the forces of the United States and Great Britain. Also, that after the Nazis surrender, the Japs, for obvious reasons, will not be far behind. Henry may be in possession of something at that.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Too many people are becoming inebriated these days. That is because they drink too fast. The time between drinks should be at least 30 minutes. . . . As to heretofore, there is one claim I noticed works out quite often. That is the claim that children are likely to in many ways resemble their mother's brothers. . . . A subscriber of 33 says she goes jitterbug dancing with her 16-year-old son. "We attract no particular attention," she says, "because I look to be about 21 and have been taken for being even younger than that."

BRIEFLY: Chinese women have very youthful faces. A 50-year-old Chinese woman usually looks to be around 30. It is said the eating of a lot of raw, green vegetables has something to do with this. . . . In some states, the law is that a husband has control over his wife's earnings and can order the little lady to turn over her pay-check to him so he can direct the spending of it for the general benefit of the family. There may be husbands courageous enough to take advantage of this legislation, but I never heard of one.

BIG GIRL: "As for that large girl you mentioned as working in a Detroit war plant," writes a Californian, "she is just a cute, little trick compared to Katherine Peiro, who works at the Douglas plant in Santa Monica. Katherine weighs 265 pounds. She is not fat; just big. She works on the loading dock, doing the same type of work as a longshoreman."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What have you against women wearing slacks? A—Nothing. As I said before, I think every woman who has a figure like Katharine Hepburn should wear slacks on appropriate occasions. However, Paul-ette Goddard seems to have something against women wearing slacks as she once said: "Slacks are an abomination. Shorts are all right but skirts are better. Women just weren't built for wearing trousers!" . . . Q—You claim some Negro regiment did marvelous things in France in World War I. Just what regiment was it? A—It was the 369th Infantry, largely recruited from the Harlem section of New York city. The 369th was under fire for 191 days. It was the first United States regi-

SAYS HE: "Dear Edward," writes a Californian, "I wrote to you when I was 76 to tell you I was being married for the first time to a charming lady of 53. I am now 81 and my wife 64 and we are very happy. Our health is wonderful. We go dancing twice a week. I go to work every day and earn a nice salary. My wife manages a hotel. I will write you again when I am 90."

PASSING BY: Benay Venuta. Chanteuse from San Francisco. Real name is Benevenuta Rose Crooke. She has a 3-year-old daughter. Benay and her child can often be seen strolling down the avenue in "look alike" attire. That is all right for 3-year-old daughters but, according to the experts, when a female child reaches the age of 8 she should be permitted to select her own clothes and not be regimented or dominated in this respect by her mother.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Mrs. Lydia Fifield of East Thompson, Ct., has given birth to seven sets of twins. If this isn't the United States record, what is? . . . In a recent divorce case a judge awarded the family's springer spaniel to the husband, saying: "A springer is a man's dog. If it had been a dachshund or a Pekinese I would have awarded it to the wife." A very wise judge. . . . Mrs. Billie Lilly of Eastwood, Cal., has been made a member of the My-Name-Is-a-Poem Club. "I am immensely pleased," Mrs. Lilly told reporters, "and I hope to be present at the first convention of the My-Name-Is-a-Poem Club, which will be held after the war at Hong Kong."

SIDELIGHTS: Bing Crosby's best selling records are those he has made of religious songs. . . . Have another reader named Gwyllys, but still do not know how to pronounce that name. . . . There has been much discussion of the possibility of a large casualty list among United States troops when the invasion of Europe gets going for the final drive. In the Argonne offensive in World War I, 750,000 U. S. troops took part on a 25-mile front that drove the Germans back to the Meuse river. In this drive 122,000 members of the AEF were killed or wounded.

BRIEFLY: If you let the water run too hard and too long on your head when taking a shower bath you'll be sorry. It will make you bald-headed. . . . The eldest son of a family makes the best husband. So claims a matrimonial expert. Our Mules & Men Department is checking on it.

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 3—Susanna Foster is to do a musical version of "Joan of Arc." Every actress yearns to play the Maid of Orleans.

I have heard Ingrid Bergman say she wishes David Selznick would arrange for her to do a version of the story of the girl who led France into battle, and Greta Garbo almost went to England to star in "St. Joan" for Gabriel Pascal. Susanna won't do the G. B. Shaw play. The story is in public domain, so all Universal has to do is reach out and take it.

George Waggoner, who produced "Phantom of the Opera," says he thinks Susanna has the greatest future of any young actress in motion pictures. He has Edward Ward writing the music for "Joan of Arc" and a couple of Universal writers scripting it.

MONTHS AGO I said that Franchot Tone and Frank Tuttle had taken an option on Howard Fast's "Citizen Tom Paine," one of the most widely read books of the year. Now, according to Mike Levee, Franchot's agent, when and if it comes to the screen it will be produced by Gabriel Pascal in England, with Franchot, of course, still in the Paine characterization and Tuttle retaining his interest and directing it. Because of Paine's inflammatory personality and the fact that in later life he lost his great popularity in America, I doubt very much if it is a picture Hollywood producers would want to gamble on. Franchot has a Paramount contract, but it permits him to make outside deals.

MARSHA HUNT has been offered the lead in "Champagnes for Everybody," by Bob Ritchie, and she's very excited about it. I have an idea that M-G-M will lend her, because Bob worked for them for so many years and they are very good friends. Perhaps they have a financial interest in his play. I wouldn't be surprised. Mr. and Mrs. Lazlow Vadney were at Bob's party and I had a long talk with them. He is one of the co-authors of "Champagne for Everybody," and Max Weil is the other. Vadney also wrote "Uncertain Glory" for Errol Flynn. Mrs. Vadney is a Hungarian and a great friend of Ilona Massey.

DARRYL ZANUCK's wish to get Cary Grant to play "Johnny Nolan" may come true. Cary was at the party Bob Ritchie gave for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kriender and I stopped him saying, "You know, Darryl wants you for 'A Tree Grows in Brooklyn.'" "I'd like to do it, too," he told me, "because I read the script and it's wonderful." I suggested that perhaps they might build up the part. "Johnny gets killed early," he said, "and there are other parts equally important, but it would be a mistake to change it." Cary doesn't want the script botched up to make a Roman holiday for him. I call that being not only nice, but smart. Other actors could take a lesson.

THE RUMORS were widely circulated last week that Lana Turner and Steve Crane had reached a breaking point. So I asked Lana, who has always been very truthful and frank with me. "Oh, for Heaven's sake," she said, "we have been so peaceful for a year. There isn't any trouble. I am working and he is working and we haven't time to battle." I asked about Cheryl. "Sensational," was Lana's reply. "She's the best. Come over and see her and tell me if I'm not right." Lana's whole life seems wrapped up in that baby, and from all Betty Grable has told me she is a good mother. Steve also denied the gossip by saying, "We haven't even had a quarrel."

SUSANNA FOSTER

A LINE OR TWO: Dolores Del Rio's most recent picture, "Maria Calaveria," is the best thing the Mexican actress has ever done, according to Carmen Figueroa, and she says Dolores is very happy in her native Mexico. She has bought a new home and every Mexican is proud of her. When "Maria Calaveria" is shown in this country it will be called "Zochimilco," explained Carmen, who says the story is about an Indian girl. . . . From New Guinea comes a letter from Lew Ayres, who writes Bob Duncan that he has been appointed assistant to a chaplain. In characteristic Ayres style, when Lew found that only a Pic could have such a job he requested that his rank of staff sergeant be changed to that of a private. . . . Robert Williams, who is to wed Ann Corio soon, was previously married and his wife resides in Los Angeles. Their divorce is not yet final.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Constance Bennett and Lieut. Gilbert Roland are expected to flash an announcement any minute; Buddy De Sylva leaves April 7 for a month's vacation in the Caribbean and believe me he is a hard working boy who deserves it; William Randolph Hearst, Jr., is in Algiers, where he will do special articles on the war; the whole town turned out to greet the Jack Kriender at the cocktail party given them by Bob Ritchie at Connie Bennett's house! Maj. De Seversky and Ludwig Bemelmans were chatting with Eddie Mannix. Bemelmans said he is going to paint a picture of Eddie. Eddie retorted, "All right. I'll write the preface for your next book." Errol Flynn, surrounded by a bevy of pretty girls, among them Faye Emerson, was at his gayest; Walter Pidgeon was one of the first to arrive and one of the last to leave.

JACK OKAKIE, who is riding the wagon, may go to New York for a play; Anita Colby, back from a successful trip exploiting "Cover Girl," which was a joy, it's such a good picture, talking with the Bob Orrs. Bob, vice-president of Lennen & Mitchell, is here for a week; Mervyn Leroy, with whom I talked, said his children are with him but he is sending them to New York to be with their mother for two months after school. His parting with Doris, who is living in New York, is very friendly.

My Day

By Eleanor Roosevelt

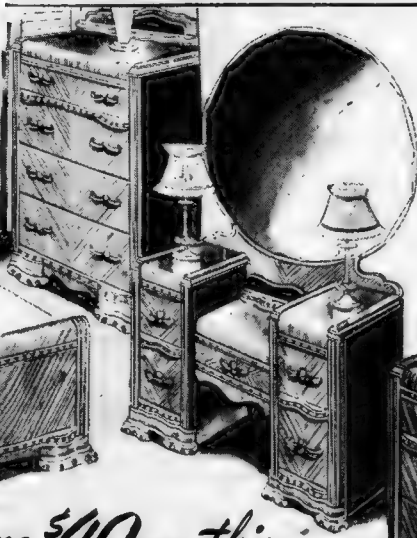

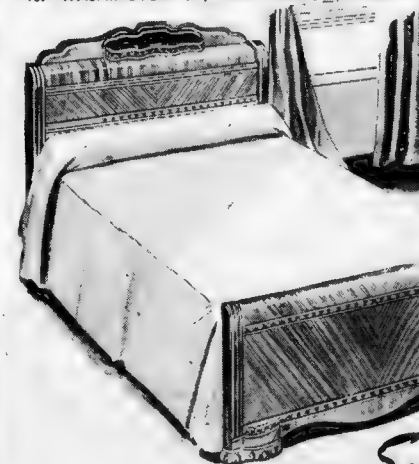

WASHINGTON, Sunday, April 2—Now let me tell you more about my visit to Brazil. Not far from Recife, Vice Admiral Ingram has established a recreation center where our Navy men, who go out to sea in the smaller craft which do the really hard patrol and convoy work, can spend two or three days between trips. The building was already there when our men arrived and has been adapted to their use. I think it was to have been a hospital and therefore there are some beautiful sun decks from which you get a view of a lovely countryside all around.

The men have horse-shoe pitching and games and quite a number of nice looking horses which they can ride. A boy from Tennessee, in a few weeks, had built up a pretty nursery garden, and you will recognize that this was quite a feat when I tell you that all their water comes to them in barrels by cart loads.

IN RECIFE, we drove along the docks, and the length of that drive gave me an idea of the amount of shipping activity there. When we came to one of our cruisers, Rear Admiral Read and I went aboard. It was a great chance for me to see this ship and her men, who have done such valiant work. They had painted on her side three swastikas, which means three German ships sunk.

WE ALSO VISITED the Brazilian naval apprentice school. This interested me greatly. They take boys of 16, give them both academic and practical training and, at 17, put them into the Navy as third-class seamen. They are permitted to rise to the rank of lieutenant-commander. lapped their milk at the Animal Rescue League today as they wondered what had happened to "Mommy."

League officials, meanwhile, armed with long poles and ropes, went to Brookline in an effort to capture the mother to reunite her with her family.

The mother had dug a hole under a garage in the yard of Korham Dana, in Edgill rd., Brookline, where she brought her puppies into the world. Dana saw her emerge with two of the pups, but when she spied him she returned to the hole, taking the pups with her.

When the dog went away for a short time, Louis James of the Animal Rescue League, after a three-hour struggle, hauled the puppies out. The mother, meanwhile, returned, and officials had difficulty restraining her. When the last pup was taken out, the mother, whining with grief, insisted on going back into the hole.

Smart Set New Debs Busy on Volunteer War Jobs

By BETTY ALDEN

IN A COUPLE OF WEEKS the curtain will ring up on a new debutante season so it's time to take a little peek into the future and see who's who in next year's deb crop.

Unlike their older sisters who spent long summers of travel abroad and devoted their coming out winter to a whirl of partying, Boston's 18-year-old wartime debs are a serious group. Almost to a lass they are already engaged in some sort of volunteer job with nurse's aide training tops in popularity.

None have any plans for lavish parties and most of them expect to go to college. In this era when schools and colleges are running on accelerated programs the debutante routine is speeded up too. The girls who will graduate from exclusive finishing schools in another month are already applying for membership in the Junior League provisional training course which has been advanced to June to give them the opportunity of summer placements after taking the course. Last year the League placed a large number of members in the Women's Land Army and prepared them for a useful summer of pitching hay, milking cows and digging potatoes. Among these farmettes were Bolling Byrd, the Admiral's daughter, Phyllis Long, Frances Baker, Christine Lowell, Sonya Hedstrom and Faith Little.

Though there are no private parties on their social calendars the new debs will have their first taste of the social limelight at the Empire Junior Dance, May 6. This annual affair to benefit the Bryn Mawr scholarship fund is always the curtain raiser of a new deb season.

Even before closing her last school books at Milton Academy Rachel Rock is already studying for the Civil Air Patrol. She's the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Rock of West Roxbury. One of her sister debs will be Mary Baker, musically talented daughter of Mrs. Royce Baker, and a Winsor senior.

Alphabetically one of the tops

Boston Evening American Mon., April 3, 1944—Page 23

on the list is Margaret Amery who follows a pretty sister into the social spotlight. She works loyally at the Blood Bank and American Field Service. Elizabeth Breed, Beaver senior, is practically a veteran volunteer, having worked many hours as a nurse's aide at the Peter Bent Brigham and at the Blood Donor Center. Barbara Ginn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ginn of Mt. Vernon st., a Winsor senior, Edith Fitz, president of the senior class, at times is strictly on the useful side.

Winsor, Mary Freeman of Salem, Sabra Harwood of Beacon st., Patricia Jenney and Mary Lyman of Westwood, are also among the coming debs whose war time activi-

To the Woman who has never used a TAMPON

Many women endure endless hours of discomfort with old-fashioned methods of sanitary protection... and do so needlessly. There is no reason why a normal, healthy woman, whether she be married or unmarried, should not experience the security and peace of mind provided by DALE'S internal protection. DALE is the only tampon with the Lubricated Tip. It melts into a smooth lubricant, enabling DALE to glide gently into place. No applicator necessary! And DALE'S new Tapered Shape makes it easy to place in the correct high position for lasting comfort. DALE'S new Safety Base gives greater security. And DALE contains more cotton for extra-long protection. Try DALE. You will be thankful for the suggestion.

Beauty Three-Day Healthful Diets for You

Fashion

NOW IS THE TIME for that feminine figure... comparable to the compelling and appealing littleness of Warner Star Joan Leslie... to greet the new season with a new silhouette. A sensible, wholesome diet... a tried and true weight-reducing diet... is yours for the asking... to help you trim off those extra pounds which aren't a bit attractive.

Money by Radio From Soldier

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—My son, stationed in England, sent money by radio to me on two different occasions, and to date no check has been received. He started this service last November. J. F. M.

In regard to non-receipt of money radioed to the United States by a soldier in a foreign theater of operation, inquiry should be made to Brigadier General A. H. Carter, director, Postal Division, Army Service Forces, War Department, Washington, D. C. Give him full particulars, your son's correct mailing address, serial number, etc.

Save waste kitchen fats for powder. Take them in clean, de-mouthed cans to your meat case.

BE READY ON TIME!—If someone is to call for you at a specified hour, be ready at that time. It's annoying to hurry to keep an engagement and then be greeted with "Take off your coat and wait. I just have to do a few things, then get dressed and I'll be with you in about 15 minutes!" You should be ready when the person arrives.

HOW WOULD YOU like to lose five pounds... say in three days... as a sort of a refreshing trimness to your figure... to give that slimming effect to your new suit or dress? Not the kind of a diet that is a sabotage of energy, however, but a wholesome, sensible liquid diet... that will not only cleanse your system... but slice off a few pounds.

Easter Sunday is just a week away... and a last-minute effort to drop a few pounds so that the Easter finery won't be just a teeny-weeny-bit snug should be part of every gal's curriculum before the grand parade.

Of course, we all diet because of the number of pounds we can loose by it... but the acid test of a good diet is the way you feel in the mid-afternoon. You shouldn't feel totally starved... and your vim and vigor shouldn't be diminished to such an extent that you are ready to drop because of lack of food.

This mid-afternoon feeling is definitely essential... and you are wrong if all you think about are the number of pounds you lose. You must feel full of pep along with the diet... which slices off the bulges here and there... feel up to the minute despite your gritted-teeth denial of mouth-watering delicacies.

There is no reason to go on a silly diet... one of extremes... as most girls do, when they want to tip the scale five to ten pounds below their normal mark. You can take off as much weight on a sensible diet... as on a poor one... but with the good one... you maintain a good disposition... and your nerves are not frayed and wragged.

DIETS MUST BE HEALTHY ONES

Take it from a dieter of the old school... diets are swell... but they must be healthy ones... and the diet which I have in mind... a tried and true weight-taker-off... will take off, at least, five pounds in three days... but in an endorsed way.

Strenuous diet can raise havoc with a person... and should never be done unless under the direct supervision of a physician... since your overweight may be an organic predisposition which needs medical attention.

For the average gal... who has taken off some pounds because she ran riot with rich desserts and pastries... and starchy edibles... this three-day diet will do wonders.

With it, I have listed an alternate three-day diet which provides ample food... but in correct proportions and in a correct combination of foods... the all-important basis of any diet regime.

You know you can't eat your cake and not have the calories count. Somewhere there must be a decisive will-power and a determined bid for a splendid figure... of true feminine lines. These two sets of diets... each alternated at three-day intervals... are weight-reducers. I assure you... and you can continue them for as long a time as you feel necessary... until you tip the scale at just the poundage you desire and need for your height and bone-structure.

I should be most happy to send you these diets. If you write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

stamp No. 1 in Book 3, good for one pair indefinitely.

Scarf-Dress Helps Many

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE scarf-dress is an item in the spring styles which deserves attention from most of us. The super-slimming lines of dresses get about the nicest kind of relief from this scarf-in-one idea.

The originator of the scarf dress is Adele Simpson, a designer whose name is a very bright star in the fashion sky, and the scarf-dress is one of her fine spring models.

Miss Dulin's sketch will explain the idea to you. This Adele Simpson model is made of soft, clear, gray, wool and the scarf is cut in one with the front of the waist, and worn slung over the left shoulder where it hangs about to the length of the fingertips, at the back. You can of course arrange it in different ways to suit yourself. Below the softness of the scarf drapery and the loose sleeves the dress buttons snug and slim down the front, and has two patch pockets on the hips.

FOR THE GAL WHO ALWAYS PREFERS large hats... men invariably like them, too... why not choose this smart, natural, close-weave straw? There is practically no crown... and two wide bands of brown grosgrain ribbon trim the deep rolled-down brim. RKO starlet Margie Stewart models this ultra feminine hat over the new flat-top head... with huge chignon in the back.—R. M.

Dumplings Help Solve Low-Point Problems

By MARTHA LEE

IN LINE WITH Uncle Sam's no-point, low-point program, let's consider dumplings as a timely selection. Whether they be parsley or tomato or liver or pork dumplings, they give an air of "special occasion" while they extend meat and meat flavor, ease the food budget and give all-around satisfaction.

Learn the art of making dumplings. Include them with a stew, for example, and you have a meal that's different.

POTTED VEAL

2 lbs. veal shoulder
1 onion
1 qt. water
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 cups diced potatoes
6 carrots, sliced
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup flour

Cut meat into 1-inch cubes. Simmer veal and sliced onion in water for one hour. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, potatoes and carrots. Continue cooking for 15 minutes. Thicken mixture with the flour and water which have been blended together.

PARSLEY DUMPLINGS

1 1/2 cups enriched 1/2 tsp. finely chopped flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup lard
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add chopped parsley. (Chives or mint may be used in place of parsley.) Blend in lard with fork.

milk. Drop by tablespoons on top of stew. Cover lightly and steam 12 to 15 minutes.

LAMB STEW

2 lbs. lamb breast
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Flour
1 1/2 tsp. lard
Have lamb cut in 2-inch pieces. Season with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Brown meat in hot lard. Cover with water and simmer in covered kettle one hour. Add vegetables and cook until vegetables are done and meat is tender.

TOMATO DUMPLINGS

1 1/2 cups enriched 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup tomato juice
Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Blend in shortening with a fork. Add tomato juice. Drop by tablespoons on top of stew. Cover tightly and steam 12 minutes.

Pork dumplings make a mighty tasty dinner entree. They fit perfectly into the kitchen budget-ration book pattern and are also honorable members of the clean plate club—for never a crumb will remain on the dinner plate. Only two precious meat stamps are needed to make six generous servings.

PORK DUMPLINGS

1/2 lb. pork links
1/2 cup enriched 1/2 tsp. salt
2 1/2 cups warm water
1 cup milk
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup milk

Cook pork links in skillet over medium heat for 10 minutes. Remove pork links from skillet and make gravy with pork drippings. Add 1/2 cup flour to drippings. Blend well. Add warm water gradually, stirring constantly. Make dumplings by sifting together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut cooked pork links in 1-inch pieces and add to flour mixture. Add milk and mix well. Drop dumplings by tablespoons on top of gravy. Cover and let steam about 20 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 dumplings. Pork dumplings may be varied by adding 2 tablespoons of minced parsley to flour mixture. The bright green flecks of parsley add springtime color and cheer to the creamy dumplings.

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, April 3—Denny and his wife, Josephine, used to be one of the most successful teams in show business. When they appeared at a theater the boxoffice receipts were fat and golden. But their home life was less successful, and a few years ago Josephine left show business and Denny simultaneously at the height of the team's popularity.

Denny carried on alone, and today he is one of the top figures in the entertainment world. Also, he is one of Broadway's gayest. Lotharios—outwardly. His dressing room is always full of beautiful babes, he sits at bars and in bistros with blondes, and his arm looks strangely naked with no siren curled around it.

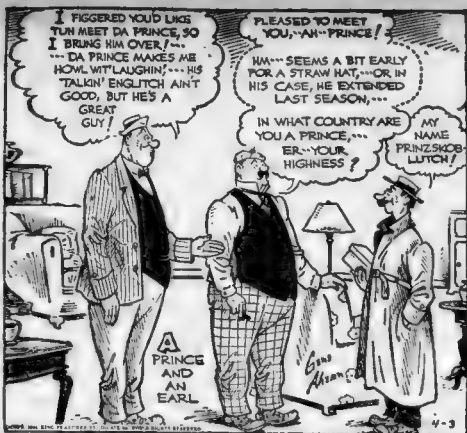

Many a belle has attempted to get Denny to take the big step, for he is quite a catch—more than a millionaire, and not a bad guy, besides—but he has eluded them all with surprising agility. He switches from one to another so fast that by the time a gossip columnist links him with Jane he is being seen with Joan.

THAT'S WHAT he wants. You can't mention him with pretty girls too often—and not that he's a terrific publicity hound. He likes seeing his name in the paper, but no more so than anyone else in the theatrical profession.

No, Denny wants his name coupled with loveless in the columns so he can clip the items and send them, anonymously, to Josephine. He keeps hoping that—if his strength and the supply of girls holds out—his wife will become so jealous she'll return to him.

But you can't print that. Because then everybody would know the truth about Denny and spoil it all. Right now he's that rare and charming thing—a quiet torch bearer.

DO YOU REMEMBER when Eddie Mayehoff, the voluble coach in "Early to Bed," used to lead a five-piece orchestra at the Shelton Corner seven years ago? . . . Did you ever see the male half of a ballroom dance team who didn't twiddle his cuffs? . . . Isn't Hollywood agog over the way Robert Walker is taking the divorce action of his wife, Jennifer Jones? . . . Do you know that a wealthy New Yorker is suing a broker to recover $5600 he lost in a poker game while he was intoxicated?

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolasky

HOLLYWOOD, April 3—You and I are going to wander about the various sets. Over at "The Conspirators" Hedy Lamarr and Paul Henreid are doing a love scene, and sitting by, looking, are John Loder and Lisl Henreid.

Loder has just finished work in "The Hairy Ape," and has come over to have lunch with Hedy. A kiddie divy too, wouldn't you? John and Lisl watch the scene and Lisl says, "They make love lovely, don't they?" "Yes," answers Loder, "they make love very nicely. Someday, you know, I hope to play in a picture with Hedy and do a love scene, in the type."

They have torn down the wall of the sound stage where Mervyn Le Roy is filming "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" to get a couple of planes in. The planes, which are exact replicas of those that bombed Tokyo, couldn't get through the extra large sound stage door. And now that the planes are there for Robert Walker and Van Johnson, they can't rebuild the wall for they can't get the necessary materials. So they have built a temporary cardboard wall.

And while nearby, you and I must drop in on the set of "Meet Me in St. Louis" to take a look at Gloria de Haven. Know why we must look at De Haven? Because they're calling her "a young Lana Turner." Well, after the look, we're ready to admit that she's a young Lana Turner, but then later, we see Lana Turner and she is "a younger Lana Turner."

GYPSY ROSE LEE is another gal that we must visit. Gypsy is all dressed up—something unusual for her—playing the title role in "The Belle of the Yukon."

When we walk on the set, Gypsy is talking her song, "Every Girl Is Different," which was written by Johnny Burke and Jimmy Van Heusen, and it tells how all girls are different, "but for the love of Mike, all men are alike."

Gypsy likes Hollywood better now than she did when she first came out here to work and they made her change her name to her original, Louise Lovick. Great change. The Hays office has of objected to a mere name alter "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek."

SPEAKING OF SONGS, they've got a songwriter playing the role of a broken down piano player in "To Have and Have Not." Hoagy Carmichael is playing the role of the piano player in a Martinique saloon, and the song he plays and sings for the lovers, Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall, is "How Little We Know." It is a new song and surprisingly enough, the tune was written by that songwriter, Hoagy Carmichael, while the lyrics are by Johnny Mercer.

Of course, another set that you and I must get to is "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," for the director is Gregory Ratoff, and you know Ratoff. Michael Dalmatoff has just finished playing a scene, and Director Ratoff shouts: "Terrific. No wonder you were the toast of Russia. No matter what anyone says, you got this job because of your ability, and because you are my friend."

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: Governor Tom Dewey of New York and Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia will be the final selections of the Republican convention in Chicago for nominations as president and vice-president, respectively, on the G. O. P. ticket. . . . This prediction was made by one of the highest active dignitaries of the Republican party, a gentleman whose political astuteness has won him high honors in the national affairs of the party.

THAT THE DEMOCRAT, Senator Byrd, would bolt his own party and throw in his lot with the opposition . . . will be scoffed at by Democratic leaders . . . But the informed gentleman who disclosed the fact of the Dewey-Byrd ticket possibility vows that the Senator from Virginia, an articulate and powerful foe of the 16-years in the White House movement, has not only listened willingly to overtures that he make the fight with Dewey, but that he has promised to jump the Donkey-traces without any hesitation.

WITHIN THE REPUBLICAN ranks, the Dewey-Byrd prospect is expected to be accepted, after considerable debate . . . The Republican leaders who have been negotiating with Senator Byrd acted independently of the G. O. P. national committee, and in secrecy . . . This column cannot divulge the source of its information, but the identity of the G. O. P. Mr. Big who made the disclosure, if it could be revealed without breaking the "off the record" pledge shielding the name, would thrust the story on the front pages of the country . . . where it may find its way, nonetheless.

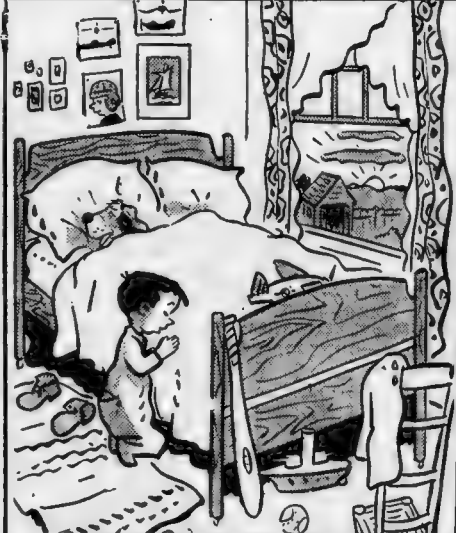

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS: A bit of common-sense in the art of making friends with a strange dog was imparted by charming Gertrude Niesen, star of "Follow the Girls," before she left Boston for New York. . . . Most persons, on being presented to a friend's dog, acknowledge the introduction by making a gesture which the dog interprets as hostile.

THEY TRY TO PAT the dog's head. . . . Not knowing the intentions of the strange person making the overture, the dog invariably ducks out of the way, and sometimes barks, or snaps at the offender. . . . As Miss Niesen pointed out, when a strange hand is about to descend on a dog's head, the dog instinctively jumps back. . . . This is an instinctive act," explained last night, all over town.

Gertrude. "It keeps the threatening hand within the dog's arc of vision. . . . The proper way to approach a strange dog is to extend the hand so that it reaches under the dog's lower jaw. . . . In 99 cases out of 100, the dog and the person who meet in this way, become instant friends. . . . In our three attempts to try it out so far, the response has been 100 per cent perfect."

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: Pat Sands' band at the Touraine is a real hit. . . . As "Pat di Selva" (this real name) Maestro Sands writes songs, generally of a patriotic nature. . . . "We Will, We Shall, We Must," a title taken from a firebrace chat, was co-authored with Francis X. Sheehan, of the Internal Revenue department. . . . The President was supposed to have been listening in when the tune was broadcast by Maestro Sands from a Boston radio station Saturday morning. . . . In two nights of the new 30 per cent tax on nightclub checks, it is reported generally that "early business," the dinner crowd and those arriving before 9 o'clock, has slowed considerably. . . . Beatrice Kay, the enchanting little thrush who has made her name synonymous with thoughts of the "Gay Nineties," has made what this columnist thinks is a shrewd analysis. . . . "Customers are doing more drinking at home, or at private parties, before going to a nightclub," Miss Kay deduces. "I could tell from the gaiety of several parties at the Latin Quarter both Saturday and Sunday. . . . They had obviously been making merry where there'd be no waster to present a check."

"IN THIS WAY, folks figure that they can keep the spending within bounds, and still have as much fun," thinks Beatrice. "This is a good notion, perhaps, in many cases. . . . But it seems in order to point out that liquor is more valuable than money, these days, and is becoming more so. . . . Private stocks aren't going to last forever, and devastating them now may be a cause of regret later. . . . Business was not affected greatly Saturday in most of the nightclubs. . . . But it was 'off' last night, all over town."

Officer's Son Wins Promotion

Thomas J. McTiernan, Jr. Promoted, Commands PT Boat

Thomas J. McTiernan, Jr., son of Sgt. McTiernan of Green st., Charlestown, retired Boston police officer, has been promoted to lieutenant junior grade in the Navy, according to a cable received today by his father.

Lieut. McTiernan, who enlisted in the Navy two years ago, has been on duty in the South Pacific for 18 months. He has been placed in command of a PT boat.

A graduate of Boston College, class of 1933, young McTiernan earned his papers as a third officer by working on tugboats in a few boats of Porto-Maugan.

Bolvin and Roach Clash In Arena Ring Tonight

By JACK CONWAY

LARRY BOLVIN of Providence, who first blazed his way to fistic fame as an All-America champion, will try to convince Willie Roach, New York featherweight, he is his master when they mingle in a ten-round bout at the Arena tonight.

Bolvin received the duke over Roach in the semi-final tussle to the Terranova-Bartolo go, but the finding of the judges and referee didn't meet with the approval of the fans. Roach put up a good fight, and he felt he won.

Bolvin has explicit confidence in his ability to conquer Roach. He didn't hesitate signing for the return go. If Bolvin wins, he will later get a crack at Terranova.

Roach lost to Enrique Bolanos of Mexico City in the semifinal to the Beau Jack-Zurita go in New York. It was a close bout, and Roach came through the tussle in good condition.

The eight-round semifinal will find Sammy Garcia of Quincy battling with Jerry Darby of New York.

Nationals Next Week

AMATEUR BOXING will take over following tonight's bouts as the national amateur boxing championships will be held at the Garden on next Monday and Tuesday nights. With 15 districts sending boxers to the tournament, it is expected that 100 mitt welders will appear in action.

"Tam" Sheehan has been obliged to overcome numerous difficulties in staging A. A. U. boxing shows here this season. There was a lack of local talent. Sheehan helped fill this gap by securing boxers from the Army camps and Naval stations. The recent New England boxing championships saw service men taking the greater part of the honors.

Boston has supported the national championships better than any other city, and it will continue to do so in the opinion of Sheehan and Tom Kanaly of the Garden.

the 17,593 fans who saw him in action. Zurita proved he is a hard, bruising puncher and that he can keep going on high for 10 sessions. Beau Jack was very fortunate to win the decision over the Mexican.

Zurita came out of the bout unmarked while Beau Jack suffered injuries to his hands and also a back strain. Zurita decided not to remain in the East, and he will return to Mexico for a rest.

By his victory over Sammy Angott and his credible showing against Beau Jack, Zurita has established himself with the fans as a class lightweight. When Zurita won from Angott, there was a tendency to say the Mexican was fortunate to catch up with a boxer who was slipping. In the Beau Jack go, Zurita left no doubt in the minds of those fans who saw him that he possesses what it takes to win fame in the ring.

Racing Scene Shifts

THE RACING scene shifts to the North this week. While Tropical Park will also have racing, interest in the turf sport will center on Jamaica where the New York season opens on Saturday.

The following Wednesday, Horace Wade will announce, "They're out and running in the first race at Narragansett Park."

Horses have been arriving at Narragansett Park each day. By the latter part of the week it is expected that 400 thoroughbreds will be quartered at the Pawtucket, R. I. track. Reservations have been made for 1200 horses and they will be on hand before the meeting in many days old. It is expected there will be 700 horses available by April 12.

Jack Conway's Magic Coin picked Larry Bolvin of Providence to win from Willie Roach of New York at the Arena tonight.

Sox, Middies Swap Pitchers for Game

By JOE CASHMAN

BALTIMORE, Md., April 3—Refreshed after a Sunday breathing spell, the Red Sox headed for the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis this afternoon for a practice game with Max Bishop's Middies.

This tilt was to mark the opening of a busy week for the Sox. In fact, our heroes have an exhibition game booked daily until they reach Boston a week from Thursday.

At the request of Coach Bishop, erstwhile Sox and Athletics second-sacker, the major leaguers and future admirals were to swap pitchers this p. m.

Joe Cronin assigned Yank Terry, Vic "Lefty" Johnson and Joe Wood, Jr., to twirl for the Middies, while a trio of Bishop's boxmen were to operate for the Sox.

SOX MAY BE HELPED

Maxie couldn't have read of the details of the Sox opening exhibition against the Curtis Bay Coast Cutters on Saturday last.

If the showing of "Junior" Wood and "Pinky" Woods on that occasion is a sample of the shape of the Sox slingers, the Croninmen can't possibly be hurt and might be helped by today's exchange.

However, Cronin predicts that Terry and Johnson, a 4-F new-comer from Louisville, will be far more impressive against their own mates than were his opening game choices against the Coast Guardsmen. Yank and Vic can't surely be less impressive, that's sure.

Joe goes on to assert, by the way, that the Hose hurling wasn't quite as bad at Curtis Bay as the Cutters' 23-16 victory would indicate.

TWO EARNED RUNS

"Joe Wood was more unfortunate than ineffective in that first frame," the pilot insists. "Remember, only two of the Cutters' 12 runs in the inning were earned. Joe's control was off in spots, but if his support had been up to standard, I think he'd have held the Cutters in check. I don't know yet just how good he is. I haven't seen enough of him, but I'm convinced he's a much better pitcher than he looked in his debut.

"Big Pinkie" Woods had plenty of stuff. His trouble was that he kept getting his pitches high. He can't get anybody out that way. He must keep the ball low to win."

The Sox ragged fielding didn't worry Cronin.

"The boys haven't had enough practice," he opines. "That's the answer. Why Doerr didn't arrive from the Coast until Saturday morning and played nine innings in the afternoon. So did Partee and Newsome, who didn't reach here until the day before. You couldn't expect them to be smooth. Will be all right defensively and about every other way."

"With a little more pitching strength, I'm sure we'd have quite a ball club, as clubs go today. I'm going to try to find a couple of experienced hurlers in the minors. If I succeed, I'm saying we'll be in the thick of the race all the way."

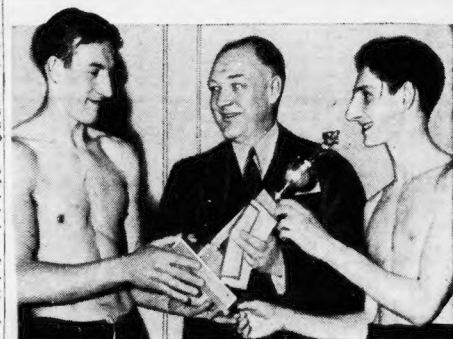

Zullo, Hudson Clash

Jerry Zullo, the Chelsea fire-cracker, will face Eddie Hudson of Portland, Me., in the feature bout of 8 rounds at the Lynn Arena tonight.

R.I. Boys N.E. Swim Champs

Scoring in every event with the exception of the 440-yard free style the Wanskuck Boys' Club of Providence captured the New England Boys' Clubs Swim championship in Harvard pool. The new title holders won 55 points to 46 for Bunker Hill, last year's champion.

Five first places went to the new champions, taking top honors in the 300-yard medley relay, Ed Nista taking the 100-yard freestyle, Vasil Bellini winning the 220-yard breaststroke, and Joe Prata, veteran performer, winning both the 150-yard backstroke and 300-yard individual medley. Prata was the lone double winner of the meet.

The 440-yard freestyle, won by John O'Brien of Bunker Hill, was one of the highlights of the meet. The battle for second, third, fourth and fifth places went right down to the tape with Pendleton winning by a narrow margin.

Bunker Hill's relay team of Murphy, Moran, Sullivan and O'Brien provided the meet with a thrilling performance in winning the 400-yard relay.

Olneyville of Providence was third with 28 points, Providence Central was fourth with 23, Roxbury and South Boston tied with 7 each and Lynn tallied six.

Tribe Seen Improved

By BILL GRIMES

WALLINGFORD, April 3—Before they departed for home after watching the Braves over the week end, Louis Perini and Joseph Maney, two of the new owners, expressed complete satisfaction in the set-up here at the Choate School and admitted that the club looked better than they had anticipated.

"I agree with Bob Quinn and Bob Coleman," declared treasurer Maney, "that, if the draft doesn't hurt us any more than it has, we'll open the season with a better club than started the 1943 campaign."

Time and again, during the past winter, I listened to Bob Quinn bemoan the fact that we didn't have infielders. And, we didn't. Right now, there are nine pretty good ball players battling for the four infield berths.

"I recall that a year ago we didn't have infield replacements. Before the squad reported here, Johnny McCarthy was a sure bet to be the first sacker, Eddie Joost had the call for second, 'Wally' Wietelmann was the only shortstop in camp and we didn't have a third baseman.

FIGHT FOR POSITIONS

"During my two visits here," continued Maney, "I've paid particular attention to the infielders. With at least two men fighting for each position, the players must bear down at all time. And, as I see it, that's a very healthy situation, one which will pay dividends in months to come.

"And, let me add, that I do not envy Bob Coleman. It's his job to select the players who will comprise the infield. I think he is using fine judgment in delaying the announcement of his decisions as to the makeup of his inner defense.

"Judging from a remark or two that he dropped, Coleman is going to let the boys battle along until a few days before the opening of the National League race.

"Niemas is a better ballplayer by 50 per cent than he was at this time last year. To use his words, he has more confidence. He has improved in every department and Bob Coleman believes he'll have a great year, if the Army doesn't get him.

COVERS WIDE AREA

"Over in Bristol this afternoon, Niemas covered a wide area while making those four putouts. And, as was the case on Saturday, he showed tremendous power at bat. He whistled a couple of hits off the young McPherson Saturday that were really stroked. And, what about the first hit he made this afternoon? The one which hand-cuffed Steve Shemon. And, his home run later in the game must have carried close to 400 feet at most against the wind.

"I overheard Bob Coleman talking about Gladu, the little Canadian outfielder. He told me to watch Gladu's wrist action, which I did. That boy has as good a pair of wrists as I've seen in some time. He is a discharged soldier from the Canadian army and therefore if he makes the grade will be able to stay with the club.

"I hope to be able to see the club in action before it returns to Boston for the series with the Red Sox. Maybe I'll get down to Atlantic City and sit in on the Yankee game with Louie Perini, who plans to be there."

Coleman will send his squad through two sessions today. Like everyone else, who saw the game, Coleman is satisfied with yesterday's exhibition contest at Bristol in which the regulars shut out the Yannisians 2 to 0.

The Braves have only two more days to spend there. They will go to New Haven Wednesday and then break camp Thursday afternoon.

Griffith Lauds Cuban Talent

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Baseball, says Clark Griffith, should go South, way South to look for talent in the war-time manpower emergency.

The 74-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, who thinks he has a 1944 pennant winner, should know. He's got about a dozen Cubans, several Puerto Ricans, three Venezuelans and a couple of Mexicans on a squad that many experts have picked as tops in the American League.
And Griffith, who's been around the major leagues as player, manager and club president since the '80s, thinks the South and Central American element is here to stay.

"Do you know that many of our best ball players today are coming from Cuba?" he asked.

"For fielding, players don't come any better anywhere than from Cuba and South America. If we can show them a few pointers about hitting, they'll be tough to beat."

"You hear a lot about Cuban all players being small. The first ones I had back in 1910 were, but now they're growing 'em bigger. He pointed out the 6 foot 3 inch, 160-pound Roberto Ortiz, an outfielder, as an example."

Griffith likes Central American baseball prospects so much that he keeps Scout Joe Cambrin there year-around beating the bushes for recruits.

Why This Man LOST HIS HAIR

When this man noticed the first danger signals he ignored them. When his scalp itched he put oily tonic on it. When he combed his hair and found an excessive hair fall he consoled himself with the thought that it would grow back just as fast. "Too busy," he said, to take a few simple treatments. Now it's too late.
